

MAKE YOUR OWN BLUEY & BINGO CHRISTMAS WREATH

WHAT YOU'LL need:

- Printout
- Scissors
- 3 x large egg cartons
- Blue, orange, white paint
- Red ribbon
- String
- Blue & orange ribbons (or whatever you have to hand)
- PVA glue
- Marker
- Plate & bucket to draw around

1.

Cut the lids off your egg cartons, mix paint into the main colours of Bluey and Bingo (blue, light blue, orange and beige). Then paint the egg cartons using these colours.

2.

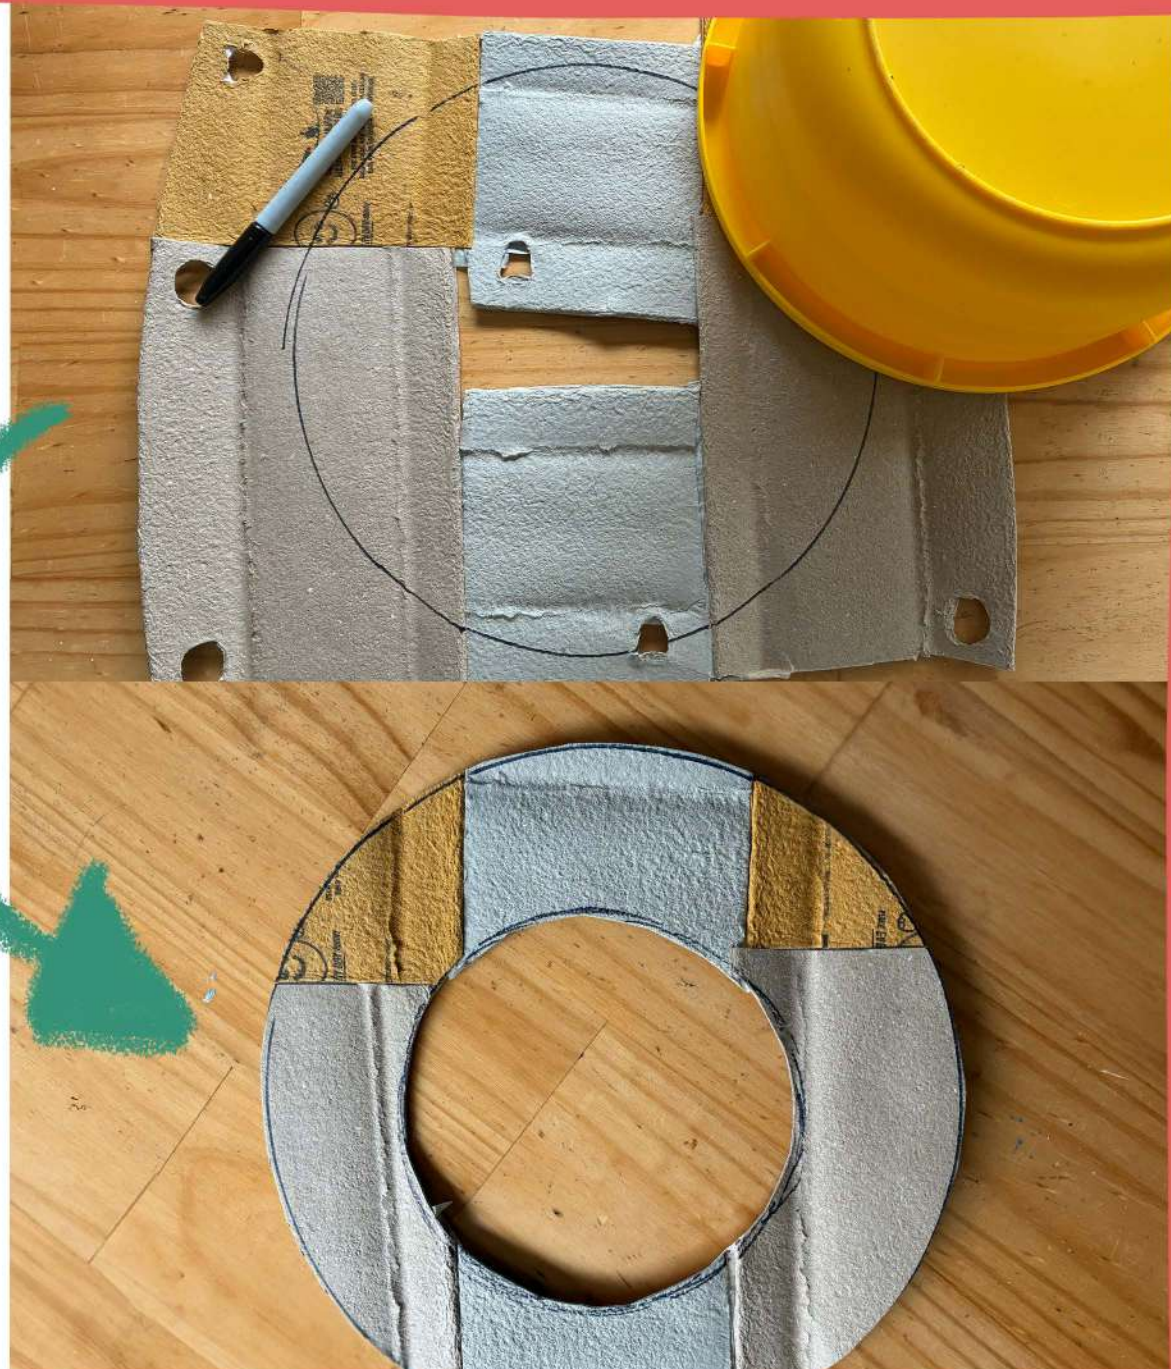

Then cut up your egg cartons (this is a bit tricky, so maybe get a grown up to help!).

3.

Using a bucket and a small plate draw a donut shape on cardboard to make a strong base for your wreath (we taped our leftover egg carton lids together, but you can use any cardboard you have around).

4.

Cut out your base (this may be another grown up job).

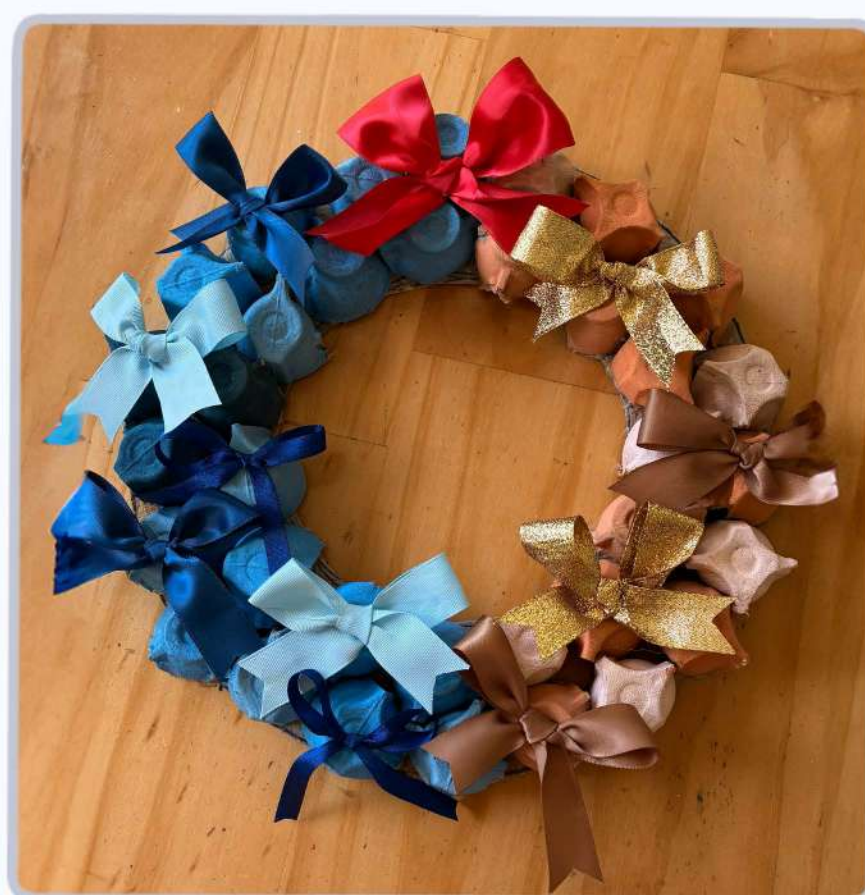

5.

Arrange your dry painted egg cartons with Blueey's colours on one side, and Bingo's colours on the other. When you are happy, glue them down (to speed up this step you can get a grown up stick them down with a glue gun if you have one).

6.

Get your big red ribbon, tie it into a bow and stick it to the top. Then get your coloured ribbons, tie them into bows and glue them on!

7.

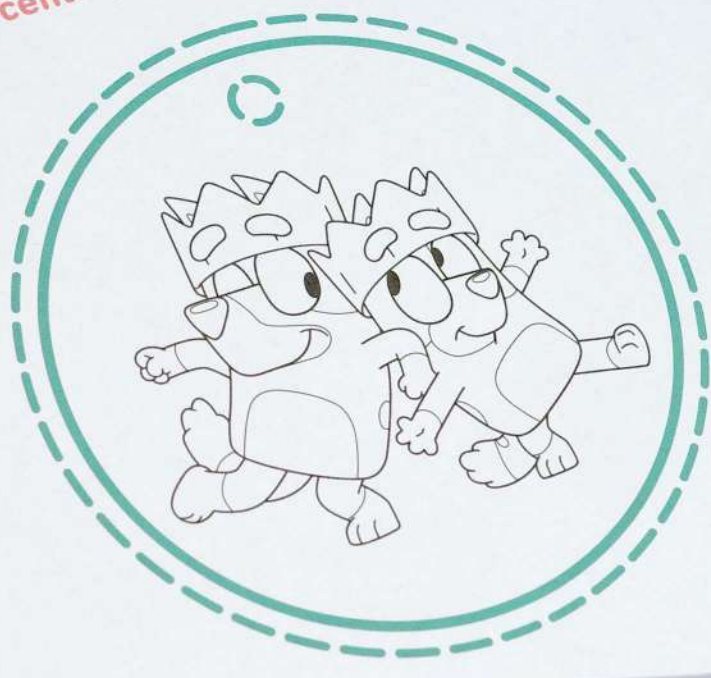

To make a hanger, get a section of red ribbon 20cm long, loop it and glue it to the back. (if you want it to be stronger, staple the ribbon to the base).
